Opening Days.

On last Friday and Saturday Messrs. T. P. Martin & Co. gave their semi-annual exhibit of fine millinery and fancy goods. We have on many semi-annual occasions visited this fashion emporium and seen the beautiful styles of the season, but this, in every department, so far surpassed any of their former openings that we are at a loss to know just what to say. That the people who did not witness it can have the slightest idea of what it really was in elegance and beauty. The spacious room had for its decorations in hats and trimmings every thing art and fashion could design. Flowers in every known variety and blue and tint, ribbons, laces and all manner of trimming goods. A large and well selected stock of every kind. There were throngs of people each day, and their complimentary expressions were verified by their many purchases.

Look for the Stars.

Miss Maude Richardson, of Bath county, visiting at Mr. Al Myers' at Spener, entered an unlighted room at Mr. Myers' home on Sunday night and stumbled over a cushion. In the fall the young lady fractured a couple of ribs.

Born, to Allen McCormick and wife, of Spener, Saturday, April 6, a daughter.

Circuit Court.

Circuit Court commenced yesterday. Judge John E. Cooper on the bench and Commonwealth's Attorney Nesbit at his post of duty.

At one o'clock Judge Cooper charged the grand jury in a two hour speech. The following gentlemen compose the grand jury:

G. T. Fox, Foreman; W. E. Jones, G. W. Fiehlin, G. E. Chick, J. W. Montjoy, J. H. Carrington, Renben May, John H. Mason, H. C. Gillispie, H. K. Green, William Wyatt and Enoch Bruton.

There will be unusually interesting services at the M. E. Church, South, next Sunday. An instructive and interesting program has been arranged. A number of short papers will be read or brief addresses made by different persons, and these will be interspersed with anthems and hymns "new and old," suitable for the occasion. The public is invited. All of the members are earnestly urged to be present.

Mr. John Feehan, who recently embarked in business for himself on North Maysville street, is now in position to do all kinds of work in the tinner's line. Mr. Feehan has been among us for a number of years and has the reputation of being one of the best tinniers in the country. His ready made stock is complete, and his line of pumps, etc., is one of the best. He will do your roofing and guttering as cheap as any body, and guarantees his work to give entire satisfaction.

The simplicity of childhood is well illustrated in the following story. A little girl had been carefully taught to pray for her father every night before retiring. One night the mother was considerably astonished and amused to hear the child say at the conclusion of her usual prayer: "And thou better keep an eye on me, too." The same child one day asked her mother why Robinson Crusoe's man was called Friday.

"I suppose because he came to him on that day, my dear," replied the mother.

"Well, ma, why don't you call me Monday instead of Mable?" innocently asked the child.

A report is current at Washington that the Supreme Court will declare some sections of the Income Tax law defective, if not unconstitutional. Those sections relating to rents and municipal bonds are said to be the ones that will be adversely decided upon. The decision is expected to make the law inoperative, while there is no way to secure a confirmation of the report, it is receiving a wide credence.

The hydrophone is a simple electric device which announces to a port or fleet the approach of a torpedo boat, even if the latter is totally submerged and, therefore, invisible.

The ladies of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, of Kansas City, Mo., have passed a resolution that women must not wear hats or bonnets to church or the theatre. We think it would be a good thing if they would adopt that law here and also make it a rule to wear some other style sleeves.

Stars point out the way.

Mrs. J. C. Elam in passing down a stairway at Mr. John Redmons' on Saturday morning, tripped and fell the full length of the stairs. When picked up it was found she had fractured her leg below the knee.

The Christian Endeavor of the Christian church will hold an open session at 4 p. m. on next Sunday. They extend a cordial invitation to all interested in their work to attend.

Grand Display.

Mrs. Kate O. Clarke's opening of millinery, etc., came off Friday and Saturday of last week, and it was a great success. Every body was pleased and so expressed themselves. Beautiful, lace, in all the beautiful patterns, ribbons of the highest grades and most delicate colors and every thing known to the trade. The trimmed goods were of the latest shapes, richly and tastefully trimmed and caught the eyes seeking the beautiful. Aside from this large stock of millinery were noticed a beautiful display of notions, fine handkerchiefs, gloves, fans, etc. The crowds looking and numerous purchases were encouraging and Mrs. Clarke was amply paid for the time and labor in preparing for this occasion.

The annual congregational meeting of the First Presbyterian church was held on the evening of April 1, at which time they perfected their financial plans for the ensuing year. Dr. J. A. Vansant and T. F. Rogers were re-elected ruling Elders. Mr. T. F. Rogers was elected Treasurer.

Roger Parsons, of this city, and Miss Hattie Tapp, of Clark county, were united in marriage at the bride's home last Wednesday. The young couple will make this city their home.

We have another Montgomery Grand Jury in session, a new set of men from different parts of the county, whose duty it is to bring violators of the law before the court. For the reason that these men have before Almighty God taken an oath to do their duty, because they are the selection by three men, who under oath, selected them in and because the Jury Commissioners are appointed by the Circuit Judge, who is also under oath, we shall expect the work of investigation to be done carefully, honestly and fairly. A Grand Jury can not know any man as his friend or foe. If he does he is violating his oath. We do not believe in reckless indictments, but no man who is living in open violation of the law should escape its penalties.

A "size" in a coat is an inch, in underwear two inches, in a sock, an inch, in a collar half an inch, in swamps, a neck Pin Mills, and fell into a hole where a big black bear was taking his winter's nap. He made an effort to escape, and in doing so he tripped on a snag and was thrown flat on his back. Bruin in the meantime being aroused from his slumbers by the sudden intrusion, gazed around to see what the trouble was, and seeing Hazen, with an ugly look and a deep growl, he made for the prostrate hunter. Hazen had lung fast to his gun, which had never gone back on him as long as he was able to carry it. Taking good aim he emptied both barrels, which was loaded with one shot, in the bear's face. Although stunned and blinded, the bear was wider than ever, and endeavored to get at the hunter to rend him into pieces, but Hazen retreated a few steps, reloaded his gun with buckshot and fired, and the bear fell dead. It weighed over 300 pounds.—New York Sun.

Bracken county is stirred up over the proposal to remove the county-seat from Brookville to Augusta. The present court house has been condemned, and the citizens of Augusta are taking advantage of the occasion to agitate the removal to that town.

Blondin is, in his old age, a sturdy thick set man. His habits have always been abstemious, and he is well preserved at 72. Blondin has walked thousands of miles on the rope, but has never made another trip so daring as that across Niagara Falls, he has never exceeded the fame he made by that perilous journey.

Evelyn Mountstuart Grant Duff has been appointed Second Secretary of the British embassy in Washington. Mr. Duff has been in the diplomatic service since 1888, when he was nominated attaché at the British embassy in Rome. He has also served in Teheran, and has been granted an allowance for his professed love in Persian.

Selecting, as they thought, a quiet interlude, they were passing out of the stalls, when an actor suddenly appeared on the stage, and repeating a part of his role, exclaimed:

"They then go. The only two women I ever loved. One I couldn't have and the other I can't get."

The amusement of the audience and the astonishment of the young ladies can be imagined.—Spare Moments.

That was a good rebuke which an English bachelor is accredited with giving his sister, who wrote asking him to look up a governess for her daughters, enumerating the list of talents and virtues she would require, on a salary of $400 a year. "I'll look out for one certainly," he wrote in reply; "but if I find a lady all that you require I shall marry her, if she will have me."

The pleasant pages of Outing for April sparkle with handsome illustrations and bright sketches from far and wide. From India are "A Tiger Hunt," "The Fallen City of Theebaw," and "Lew's World Tour;" Japan yields a sketch of its mountaineers; Illinois, "Number 58," and "The National Guard;" Mexico, "A Bullfight;" Honolulu, a poem; Jersey, "Cycling in the Pines;" Italy, "Spring in Rome;" New York, "Rigging and Sails;" California, "How Greyhounds Hunt;" Wisconsin, "Jackin' for Pick-erel;" Michigan, "The Trapper of Trapper Lewis;" Maine, "Spring Birds;" Scotland, "The Piper of Crag Alisa;" while the scope of editorial and records covers gentlemanly sport the world around.

The Big Show Coming!

Mr. Geo. H. Robinson, General Contracting Agent of the Great Wallace Shows, was in the city last week, arranging for the Big Shows, which will exhibit here Friday, May 17th. Mr. Robertson, who is one of the oldest and best known agents in the circus business, having been identified with the large shows of the country for twenty-five years past, informs the Advocate that the expense of the Wallace Shows run from $3,200 to $4,000 per day, the larger part of which sum is expended in the city where they exhibit. This is a tidy figure, and in dull times like these the show should be eagerly welcomed and liberally patronized by all classes of the community.

The Modern "Big Circus" is an institution peculiar to America. The old world shows are small comparatively, and the mammoth concerns we have are thoroughly characteristic to our country and our people even if the lion on the fence is larger than the lion in the cage, no man visiting the up-to-date Three Ring Circus has ever been heard to say he did not get his money's worth over and over again. Long may the Great American Circus wave, and continue to delight and dazzle the young and the old with its "multitudinous monopoly of all that is magnificent and marvelous on this mundane sphere," to borrow the language of the posters.

Disturbed a Bear.

Charles E. Hazon, of Blooming Grove, Pike county, Pennsylvania, was scoun' hunting last week in the swamps, near Peck Mills, and fell into a hole where a big black bear was taking his winter's nap. He made an effort to escape, and in doing so he tripped on a snag and was thrown flat on his back. Bruin in the meantime being aroused from his slumbers by the sudden intrusion, gazed around to see what the trouble was, and seeing Hazen, with an ugly look and a deep growl, he made for the prostrate hunter.

Hazen had lung fast to his gun, which had never gone back on him as long as he was able to carry it.

Taking good aim he emptied both barrels, which was loaded with one shot, in the bear's face.

Although stunned and blinded, the bear was wider than ever, and endeavored to get at the hunter to rend him into pieces, but Hazen retreated a few steps, reloaded his gun with buckshot and fired, and the bear fell dead. It weighed over 300 pounds.—New York Sun.

The steamer New South arrived at Paducah the other day with a short crew.

The officers of the boat were unable to employ hands to unload the cargo, although many negroes were loading around the levee. Thirty-five cents an hour was offered, but, as none of the negroes desired to work, the police brought the master to a crisis by ordering the idlers to go to work or to the lockup. As working for thirty-five cents an hour was preferable to breaking rock on the street for nothing, the boat was soon unloaded.

In Fort Worth, Texas, Dr. W. E. Davis, a well-known physician of Louisville, and a white nurse were arrested and lodged in jail, charged with the murder of Lula Burris, a beautiful young woman, who died under suspicious circumstances in a hotel several nights ago.

A citizen of Georgetown was brought before the police court at that place, charged with violating the Sunday law by selling ice on the Sabbath. The Judge decided that ice is a necessity. A baker was fined for selling bread on the Sabbath a short time ago.

The Delineator for April

is called the Spring Announcement Number, and is a most excellent specimen of this most popular woman's magazine. Supplementary to the regular issue of patterns there is a timely article on bicycling, with illustrations of costumes, that will interest all lovers of the wheel. The papers on The Voice, which were interrupted by the illness of the author, are resumed; and there is a begun a most practical series on Preservation and Renovation, the first instalment treating of the putting away and care of fur. Mrs. Roger A. Pryor writes very interestingly on the etiquette of fine calls and introductions, giving the accepted usages and formulas; and the second paper on The Experience of a Training School Life increases the interest already felt at the subject. The Dean of Bernard College contributes a charmingly written article on A Girl's Life and Work at the University of Chicago, of which she was a Fellow, 1893-94; Belle Person Springer writes forcibly of Type setting as an employment for women; and Sara Miller Kirby gives further instruction in Kindergarten Teaching. How to Make Dolls' Houses is shown in Crepe and Tissue paper, and exceedingly pretty designs are given in Venetian Iron Work, Knitting, Tatting, Netting and Crocheting, and the chapter on Burnt Leather Works gives illustrations and information of the necessary tools implements and advice to beginners. The Cookery article gives recipes for some new dishes, there is a paper on the Serving of Pineapples and Grape Fruit, one on Table Decoration, and the usual contribution on Floral Culture. Around the Tea-Table is bright and entertaining. Mother and Son are instructive and interesting, and a Novel Salmagundi Party suggests a delightful evening's amusement. There is also a review of The Newest Books, some Instrumental Music and an Easter Carol.

Notes For Women.

A writer thinks that the best kind of spring beds are flower beds.

When you mash a finger soak it in water as hot as you can bear it for fifteen minutes.

Girls, learn to make your own dresses. You can save many a good-sized dressmaker's bill.

Don't wait till baby is two or three years old to teach it submission to parental authority.

Combing and rubbing the scalp with the hand is said to relieve the headache and stimulate the growth of hair.

Try two or three spoonfuls of kerogen in a bucket of water for washing windows or looking glass. It lessens the work.

An experienced cabinet maker says the best preparation for cleaning picture frames and restoring furniture, especially that somewhat marred or scratched, is a mixture of three parts of linseed oil and one part spirits of turpentine. It not only covers the disfigured surface, but restores wood to its original color, leaving a lustre upon the surface. Apply with a woolen cloth and when dry rub with woolen.

Business Outlook.

Bradstreet's Review speaking of the business outlook says:

The appearance of more settled weather, together with the announced increase in prices for heavier plow and steel bits, continued strength of cotton, stimulating manufacturers to demand higher prices for fall delivery; rains in northwestern wheat regions, where greatly needed; further increase in wages of industrial employees, heavier shipments of wheat abroad, and the rush of the volume of the week's bank clearings above the $1,000,000,000 mark are evidences of the continuation of a better feeling in trade circles and returning confidence in many lines of business.

Carter county is objecting very seriously to the collection of the obnoxious railroad tax. Some three hundred men called on a deputy collector, near Dalton, on Friday night. They did not find him.

An Eloquent (?) Charge.

In his charge to the Grand Jury yesterday, Judge Cooper fairly outlined himself. Extracts from his charges on such occasions have furnished much amusement for the boys around town, and have been repeated for the entertainment of many judges in other portions of the State, but before his effort of yesterday, all former efforts pale insignificance.

In charging the Grand Jury he devoted a very large part of his two hours' talk to abuse of the ADVOCATE. There were no words of abuse too bitter for him to heap upon it. "dirty sheet," "A lying sheet, the editor of which would rather tell a lie than the truth," "An infamous sheet that is good for nothing but to retail slanders and lies," are a few, not by any means all, or the most odious of his references to a paper that had desired to exercise him.

We did not have the opportunity of hearing all his choice, chaste, and elegant tirade, liberally interspersed with what "I have said" and what "You have said," but we heard enough of it to fill us with a supreme pity for the man who deliberately threw, as a sop to his passion, all the dignity and sense of, even, common decency, which attaches to the position he occupies.

In the estimation of every man who heard him, and for whose good opinion we care a tithing, he did himself an irreparable injury, and the paper he attacked no harm.

What time he did not spend in abusing the ADVOCATE, he largely occupied in throwing bouquets at himself, and in telling the Grand Jury what a pure, immaculate man he is, until a gentleman remarked to us when we had left the Court House, "He needs but to go and sell all he has and give to the poor, in order to be perfect indeed."

He gave us good ground for telling both him and the world at large, some very unpleasant truths in reply to his tirade against us.

For the present we shall refrain from anything of the kind and content ourselves with saying that we are exceedingly sorry Judge Cooper made it necessary for us to write the article which excited his wrath, but having written it we stand by it.

That article was written in defense of a people that we believed he had treated with the utmost unfairness. He had used his official position, and the weight that official position gave to an utterance from him, to say things of us that if true branded the people of this county as unfit to live among. He went to Bath county and delivered himself of that eloquent (?) charge of which we hope he is now, himself thoroughly ashamed, we know he should be if he is not. The utterances on that occasion were a blow at the business interests of every man in this county. They were calculated to injure every man's business and lower the value of all property in the county, to say nothing of the low plain upon which he sought to pitch the morals of the community. We defended our own people and in order to break the force of what he had said we drew the vail aside, just a little, in order that the world might look in for a moment upon the Judge's own record. He got mad about it. "Well, we can't help it."

Our Circuit Judge delivered himself on last Monday afternoon of an unusual harangue, yelped instructions to the grand jury. It was a noisy, pompous, self-conceited, bilious speech which, lamentable though it be, was beneath the dignity of any man or officer, be he in position high or humble.

The ADVOCATE's criticism has gone forth and not one paragraph or word, to the doting of us all, or crossing of a "t", have we had occasion to see them. Blessed is it that the most blithest ignoramus never sees his real deformed, contemptuous like-ness. It requires innumerable characters to make up this world of ours. There are men and devils, justful warbling songsters and vomiting vultures, beasts clean and unclean; the world, we say, is composed of diversified characters and the good are necessarily compelled to deal with the disreputable; but to the honest, true and faithful even the smell of fire will not be on their garments. We are known to this community, so is His Honor on the Circuit Bench. He may heap upon us all the contemptuous epithets at his command, and yet we are willing for the people of our own dear Montgomery county to sit in judgment on us and him, and whatever may be their verdict we shall continue to bear the banner of good order and equity and to defend our people against vituperative abuse from any source whatever.

We are satisfied that if Judge Cooper could have seen how, from all over the county, the very best men in it came to the ADVOCATE office during the two weeks succeeding our issue of February 26, and thanked us for voicing their sentiments, he would promptly either set about reinstating himself in their good opinion or resign his office and leave the district.

At an adjourned meeting of the City Council last Wednesday evening a resolution was presented to that body for passage, which, after reciting the granting of a franchise to the Mt. Sterling Water Works Company, and the transferring of same to John P. Martin, was as follows:

"Now, the said City Council, at the request of the said Martin, hereby resolves and agrees that it will pay said rentals, or whatever of same that may become due under its contracts with said Martin, to associate and assign to light and water to such persons as persons as the said Martin, his associates and assigns may designate, or to whomsoever may become the holder of the bonded indebtedness against said association and payment after notice of their holding same, but do not agree to pay at any time more than is due under its contract made for light and water with the said John P. Martin, his associates and assigns."

This resolution failed to pass, but after cutting out the words, "to whosoever may become the holder of the bonded indebtedness against said association and payment after notice of their holding same," it passed the Council, and is now taking the signature of the Mayor in order to make it binding.

The Council should studiously avoid entanglements, and such a resolution will be carefully passed upon by the City Attorney, in whose judgment and foresight we have implicit confidence.

The Supreme Court of the United States has from time to time delayed action on the income tax, case before them and in the mean time property is being assessed and taxes paid. The will is an argument that the law will be sustained from the very fact that the court would hardly postpone the case.

Advocate most earnestly urges the Grand Jury, to listen to his Honor's instructions so far as they touched upon the Blair lynching, and bring to justice the perpetrators of that outrage, if possible.

We are not going to intimate that we think it one of the unparable sins for a man to drink whisky now and then, even should he get more than a little full; but the law that Judge Cooper is sworn to uphold says a man should not sell liquors on Sunday. We would respectfully suggest to the grand jury to call Judge Cooper before them and ask if he knows of anyone who has violated the Sunday law recently.

Judge Cooper's estimate of us, to the contrary notwithstanding, the Advocate most earnestly urges the Grand Jury, to listen to his Honor's instructions so far as they touched upon the Blair lynching, and bring to justice the perpetrators of that outrage, if possible.

The Springfield, Ill., Postoffice was robbed of about $8,000 last week. It was altogether the neatest and most mysterious job ever put up in that city, and there is not the faintest clue to the perpetrators. The Sun Life Insurance Company which has for some time been operating in our midst, is making the benefits it is able to bestow on those who are insured with it, more and more apparent each day. The promptness with which Mr. Barkley, the local superintendent and his assistants, settle all losses, highly commends it to its patrons.

It is said, one week lately it paid out in death claims over $450 to nine families that would otherwise have had to call on the town or county for assistance in burying the dead. The little weekly sums collected from those insured in it is not missed by the insured, and this company in this way gives a class of people the benefits of a small insurance that could be offered on no other plan.

The proposition to construct an elevated electric railroad between Chicago and New York, which shall make a trip from one city to the other of but 12 hours duration seems in a fair way to be realized. In this age of electrical miracles it is not by any means an unreasonable thing to look for an early consummation of the project. We have come to think nothing impossible and few things improbable in the domain of man's improvement and advancement.

The Lesson of the Elections.

The Michigan Democrats declared for free silver and on a very light vote were defeated by 25,000 majority.

In Ohio the same story is repeated from every quarter, and so it is, and so it will be throughout the West.

Until the Democratic party comes back to Democratic principles, and the Democratic platform, no Democratic victory of any significance is possible.

We gain nothing by surrendering to the Populists any more than by surrendering to the Republicans.

But it will be said the Michigan Republicans also declared for free silver, and they won.

Free silver is a logical deduction from the doctrine of Protection.

Each is an attempt by legislation to force prices up in spite of the market.

Each is an interference by Government with the course of commerce.

Both propositions are born of the belief that the people are made for the Government, not the Government for the people.

The natural political affinity of the Populists is the Republican party. Its principles, its practices and its purposes please them.

The Democratic party must antagonize both organizations, must fight them, and must overthrow them.

The more we yield to Populism the more we strengthen the Republicans. That was the lesson of 1893, it was the lesson of 1894, and it is repeated in the spring elections of 1895.

The Democratic of Kentucky may avert the disaster in November by boldly challenging every proposition laid down by the Populists.

Or they can incur disaster by doing as the Michigan Democrats did—by declaring for free silver.—Louisville Post.

National Nicknames.

Englishmen have submitted to the name of John Bull, as suited to the national character. A Scotchman Sandy, the Irishman derives his name, Paddy, from his national patro salt; while an animal nursery rhyme records the fact that Taffy was a Welshman. English surnames call the Frenchman in contempt, Johnny Crapaud; but in France he is Jacques Bonhomme, or as a bourgeois, Monsieur Prudhomme. Cousin Michel is the name by which the German is known to the constitutional nation. He succeeds up the Dutch, while the Swizer rejoices in the name of Colin Tanpon. Don Whiskerdon is almost a national nickname for the Spaniards, dating from Elizabethan times. Italians are known as Lazarini and Danes as Danzers—Curious Literature.

Pathetic.

It was a worn and tear-stained letter that she held in her hand. It is on the one hand. In the other, a look of hair. Short hair. Plainly a man's hair. She surveyed the look with tenderness.

"I am sorry I had to yank it out of his hand," said she, "but when he has the carelessness to carry a letter three weeks without mailing it, as he did this one, nothing but active measures will meet the requirements of the case."

The mathematical field has been at it again, and now makes the announcement that "two persons playing dominoes ten hours a day, making four moves a minute, could consume 118,000 years without exhausting all the combinations of the game, the total of which is 248,528,211,840."

The Escorial, the palace of the Spanish King, an architectural marvel, formerly described as the "eighth wonder of the world," is now seldom spoken of. It was built by Phillip in fulfillment of a vow to "erect the fairest monastery in the world," should his forces be successful in their great battles with the French, and cost $5,000,000.

Robert Louis Stevenson once wrote to his publisher regarding the birth of the central idea in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" as follows: "It may interest you to know that the main incident occurred in a nightmare—indigestion has its uses. I woke up and before I went to sleep again the story was completed."

Germany's proposal for the establishment of international postage stamps is being examined by the British Postoffice authorities. Such a stamp would enable correspondents to enclose return postage for their answers, which now they cannot do. The principle has already been adopted in the international return postal card.

Democratic Defeat.

St. Louis yesterday gave the Republican party a majority of 13,000. Chicago yesterday elected a Republican Mayor by a majority of 40,000.

Formerly the Democratic strongholds, were the cities large and small.

But municipal corruption has grown to such an extent that the moral sentiment of the country has revolted, and one city after another has thrown the Democratic administration out of the window.

And yet these municipal rings lack every element of Democracy. Their organization is essentially tyrannical and they perpetuate themselves by corruption and unholy alliances.

Their downfall is cheap at any price, and Democrats are doing their part in destroying them.

The future of the Democratic party depends on the party separating itself wholly from these municipal organizations; these modern robbers of commerce, on one hand, and on the other in making plain that the gulf between Democracy and Populism is as wide as it is between Democracy and Republicans.—Louisville Post.

Let Him Alone.

Legislation cannot do very much for the farmers or other people. The less legislation the better for most of us.

We are impressed with the truth of this opinion as we follow the course of our national and state legislation, and observe the sigh of relief with which their adjournment is welcomed.

Fewer laws, simpler laws, less officials, lighter taxes—these are imperatively demanded.

There is danger that the farmers are coming to expect altogether too much of legislation. Self-help is the best help after all. Let government keep its hands off, spur our farmers from special laws that operate against them, give us a fair chance, and then let us alone. The political farmer who farms the farmers should be out of a job hereafter.—American Agriculturist.

Magnetic Sand.

An experiment has recently been made near Orange, N. J., on the Suburban Traction Company, with magnetic sand from the ore separating works at Ogdensburg. Edison has the idea that the sand would have more effect in preventing slipping of the wheels than the ordinary sand. The experiment was tried during a snow storm on the Eagle Rock Line, where the grades are excessive and the difficulties of operating in snow or enormous. The experiment proved a complete success, the sand making a perfect electrical connection with the rails and no slipping noted.

Welcoming King Oscar.

A good story is told apropos of King Oscar. When traveling recently in Sweden His Majesty arrived one night at a town which was brilliantly illuminated for the occasion, and foremost among the buildings lighted up was a sombre-looking one—a-visa the railway station, with a glaring transparency in glass bearing the words: "Welcome Your Majesty." What big building is that?" queried King Oscar. "That, Your Majesty," replied some local bigwig sententiously, "is the county jail." And with an amused smile the King rejoined: "Indeed, almost too much attention."

One Editor, But No Lawyer There.

There is said to be one editor in heaven. How he got there is not positively known, but it is conjectured that he passed himself off for a minister, and stepped in unexpectedly.

When the dodge was discovered they searched the realms of felicity in all their length and breadth for a lawyer to draw up the necessary papers for his ejection, but they couldn't find one, and, of course, he held the fort—Breckinridge Telegram.

RELIEVING MCKINLEY.

FACTS AND FIGURES THE RESULT OF REPUBLICAN LEGISLATION.

Senator Frye, of Maine, magnanimously states that Mr. McKinley "was more responsible than several other men" for the tariff which usually bears his name. He instances Speaker Reed and the Republican leaders in the Senate as equally responsible for that measure.

The amenities of politics have seldom had a more beautiful illustration than this affords. That the Senator from Maine should be willing to divide Governor McKinley's handicap with several of his rivals is indeed generous. The McKinley law, so called, was the first measure ever framed in a civilized country on the policy of decreasing revenues by increasing taxes. It brought upon the Republican party a crushing defeat in 1890. It contributed largely to the second and more complete disaster in 1892. There would be indifference in asking its putative father to bear alone the odium when seeking a nomination for President in 1896.

But it was not disaster to the Republican party alone which this law wrought. Under its operation wages either declined or stood still, and according to official estimates nearly 1,000,000 workers were out of employment in three months after it went into effect. Some of the most desperate and bloody labor strikes and lockouts known in the history of our country followed closely after its enactment.

"Not only so but the customs revenue fell off $157,000,000 during the four years of life of the McKinley tariff. In the same period the expenditures of the Government exceed the receipts by $1,000,000, while in the preceding four years the excess of revenue amounted to $387,000,000. The Treasury surplus of nearly $100,000,000 and a yearly surplus revenue of the same amount both disappeared, and Secretary Foster actually had bond plates prepared to meet the impending deficiency.

Equally damaging is the fact that during the McKinley-Harrison period the net loss in gold exports was $123,624,000, while in the Democratic quadrennial preceding it there was a net gain in gold imports of $51,772,000.

In view of these and other like facts it is not too much to say that Senator Frye is really almost chivalric in his generosity."—New York World.

It is Democracy or Republicanism for the salvation of the country. Republicanism is McKinley and McKinleyism is on record. "Facts and figures will not lie." Men may change, but principles never change."

The results from the McKinley law have been a matter hard to correct. Our country to-day is suffering from it, and to accept Republican principles is to add more direful results. It has been well said that it is legislation which enhances the rich man's prospects by taking from the poor. The people must act wisely or suffer the consequences.

William Shipp (white), of Midway, shot and killed Sam Brown, a young colored man, at Brown's own door in Lexington Saturday night. Young Shipp had brought his mother to Lexington to attend the Mills' meeting, and after the service was over went to Brown's house to see the latter's wife with whom Shipp had for some time sustained an unlawful relation. Brown met him at the door and after a short quarrel Shipp shot him. Shipp escaped and at last accounts had not been arrested.

AMERICAN APPLES.

No bacteria phylloxera or pleuro-pneumonia having been found to infect the American apple, it is still admitted to European markets, and the exportation during the last season was $1,413,592 barrels, the demand could not be fully met.

The choice apples sent over in March brought $5 a barrel in Liverpool, or about 3cts. a pound. More fine apples and less wheat and cotton would be a good motto for the American farmer.—Lexington Gazette.

The Niagara Aerial Tramway Company proposes to erect towers on each side of the Falls, one in the Canadian and the other in the American park, and to carry from tower to tower a double set of steel cables, which are to be traversed by cars suspended therefrom and operated by electricity from the American side of the Falls. The cars, which are to be open, cage-like structures, will traverse the Falls about 30 feet above the edge, so as to give the sightseers a close inspection of the water where it takes the mighty plunge.

A method of detecting fire damp by sound has been invented. The apparatus consists of two small pipes, the size of a pony whistle, one of which is connected with the air in the mine and the other with the ventilator shaft. The presence of fire damp produces a discord at once between the two sounds, which increases with the quantity of gas, and can be measured.

By this contrivance the presence of one part in 500 of fire damp can be detected.

THE AFGHANS.

Have Undaunted Courage, But They are Revengeful.

The courage and undaunted boldness of the Afghan will bear comparison with that of any nation, and many are the instances of personal bravery known to British officers. There lives in the Kushtay country an old chieftain, the hero of many fights, who now enjoys a well-earned pension, with the village manor as a reward for honorable service, and who on more than one occasion risked his own life to save that of his commanding officer. The present editor of the London Evening Globe records with gratitude the fact that 30 years ago his life was saved by Atzal Khan, the recent envoy to the Cubal court. Major Wigran Battye, who buried him at Jelashab, fell on the battlefield of Fattahabad in the conquest of Aghan territory, but they were Afghan soldiers of his own regiment who stood over his dead body to protect it from insult. The missionary Tuting was attacking the faith of the Moslems in the streets of an Afghan town, when his life was attempted by an assassin, but it was his Afghan servant who saved the preacher's life, even in the midst of popular tumult.

Colin Mackenzie, one of the Cuban prisoners of 1842, often told the story of that of Afghan chivalry which protected the lives and honor of English ladies in the exigencies of national rebellion. Nor are they slow to appreciate the quality of bravery in others. In the frontier war of 1863, a young English officer was deserted by his native sepoys, and for some time held his own in the midst of a crowd of Afghan warriors. When the brave young soldier fell, covered with wounds, the very men who cut him down bore testimony to the indomitable pluck of the young Englishman, who, rather than run with his men, faced the foe, and died like a man. They raised one shout uniting in Afghan language as fell: "Bravo! There's a brave young fellow!" But they are revengeful and jealous.

At present there is quite a furor among the Lenion residents at Lakewood over cycling. Dozens of the despises of the late lamented Ward McAllister are daily taking lessons, and from being a present day fad among the notables, the recreation of cycling promises to become as deep-rooted at Lakewood as elsewhere.

The more exclusive sets of society are commencing to see that they can indulge cycling just as well as in carriage riding, and, in fact, that the recreation has more attractions than the luxuriously disposed would at first imagine possible, and so cycling grows.—American Wheelman.
